He came to save the wretched
As man sent forth the tree
The cross that bridged this vast divide
It stood for all to see

For His cross, it conquers all
The strength within the crimson tree
Yes, it holds my victory

All sin has now been shaken
The shamefulness oh it flees
His blood that poured for my denial
Like snow it wipes me clean

For His cross, it conquers all
The strength within the crimson tree
Yes, it holds my victory

This story never ending
The open tomb revealed
He rose from what was crucified
And now He lives in me!
Yes, now He lives in me!
